Getting Started with Your Bookkeeping Tool

For firm owners and staff: sign in, add clients, keep books, and stay secure

What makes this tool different

Your brand

Your firm's name and logo on screen, and "Prepared by" your firm on every client report.

Data stays with you

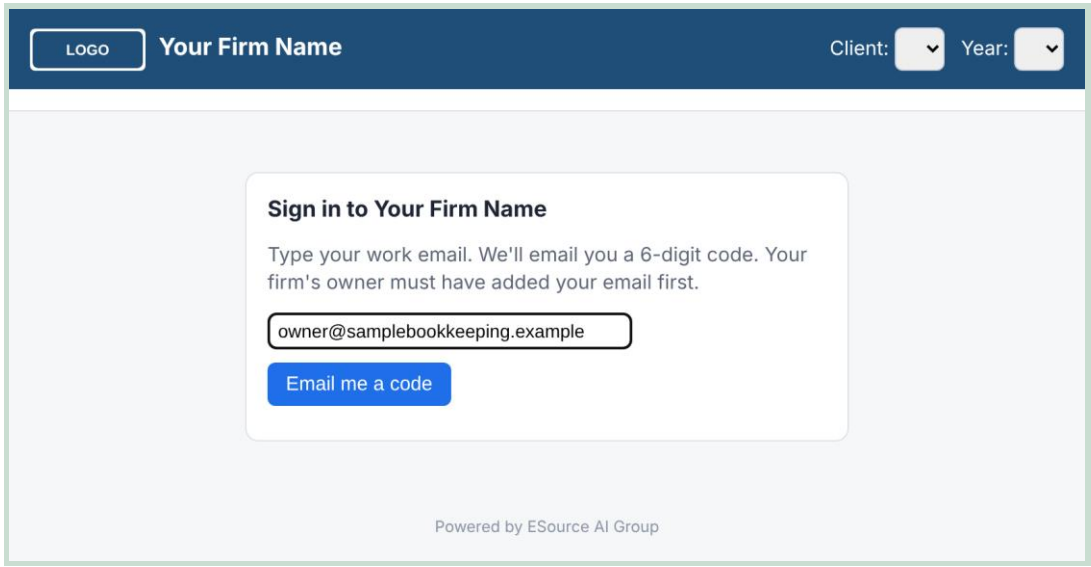

Bank statements and books live only on your firm's computers, never on our servers.

Locked to your firm

Books and backups are encrypted. Only signed-in people at your firm can open them.

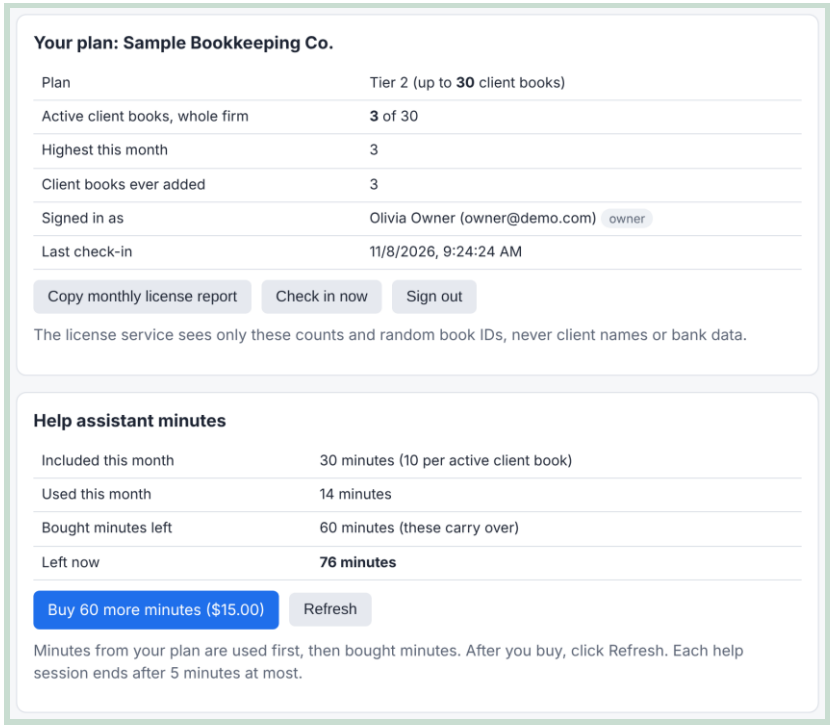

Signing in

- Open your firm's web address: Use the address your owner gave you. Bookmark it.
- Type your work email: Click Email me a code. Your owner must have added you first.
- Enter the 6-digit code: Check your email. The code works for 10 minutes.
- Stay connected weekly: Connect to the internet at least once a week. After 14 days offline, it locks until you sign in again.

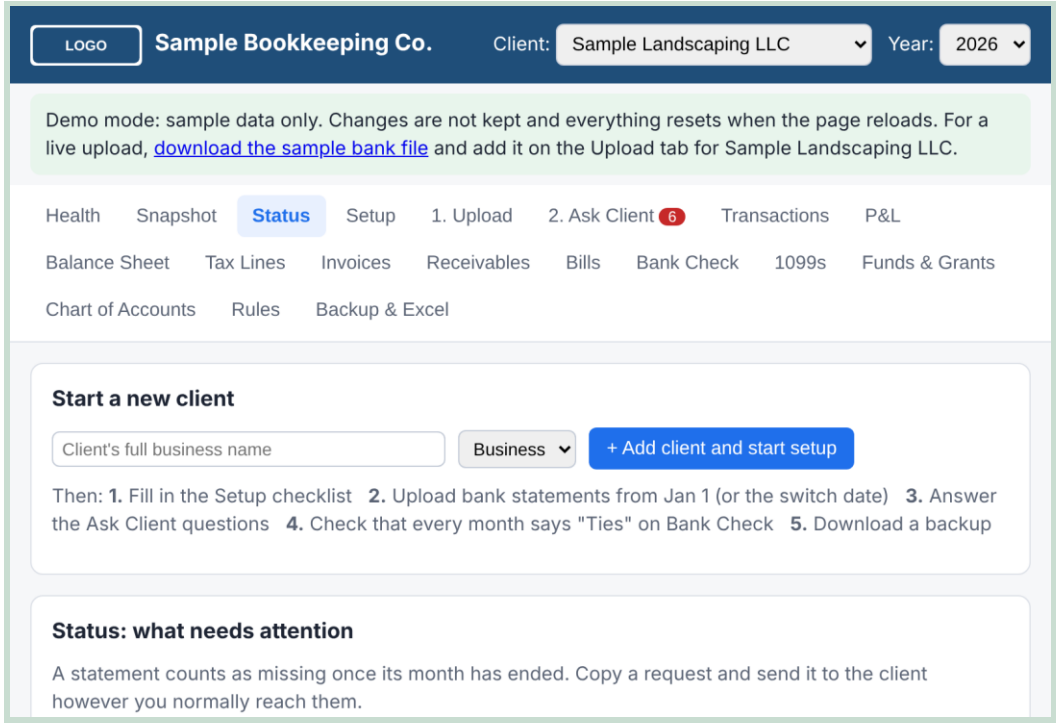

For owners: the License tab

- See your plan, active client books, and the highest count this month
- Add each staff member with their own work email
- Remove someone the day they leave; their computer locks the books
- Copy the monthly license report when asked
- See your firm's help minutes and buy more when you need them
- Never share a login; each person signs in as themselves

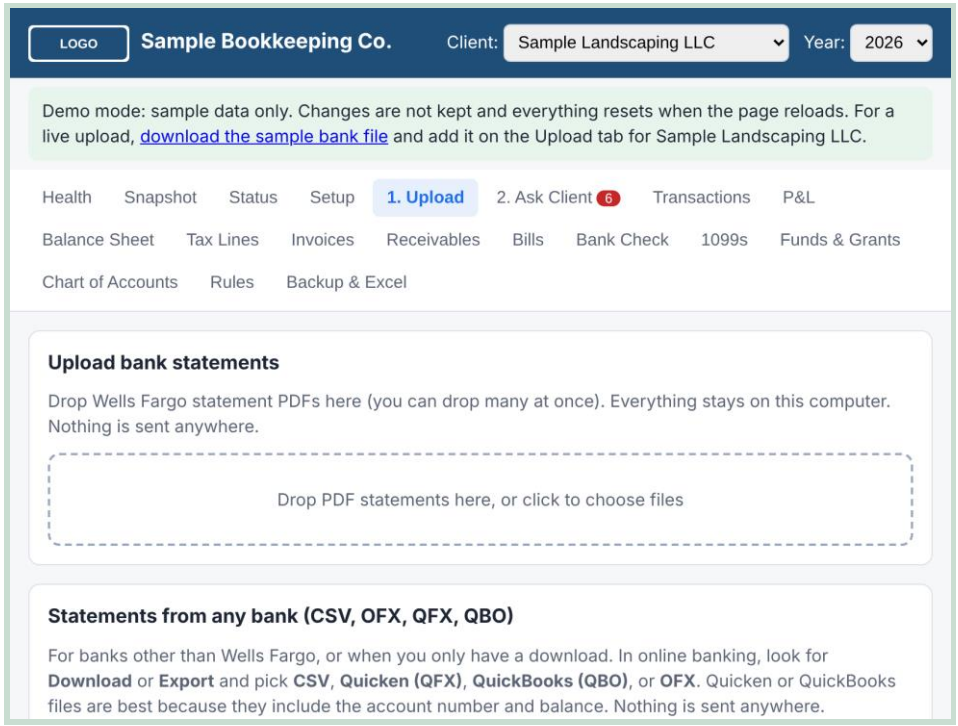

Adding a client

- Go to the Status tab: Type the client's full business name and pick Business or Nonprofit.
- Click Add client: You need internet for this, so your plan count stays right.
- Fill in Setup: Entity type, owners, tax preparer, sales tax, and start date.
- If your plan is full: You'll see a message. Ask your owner to move up a tier.

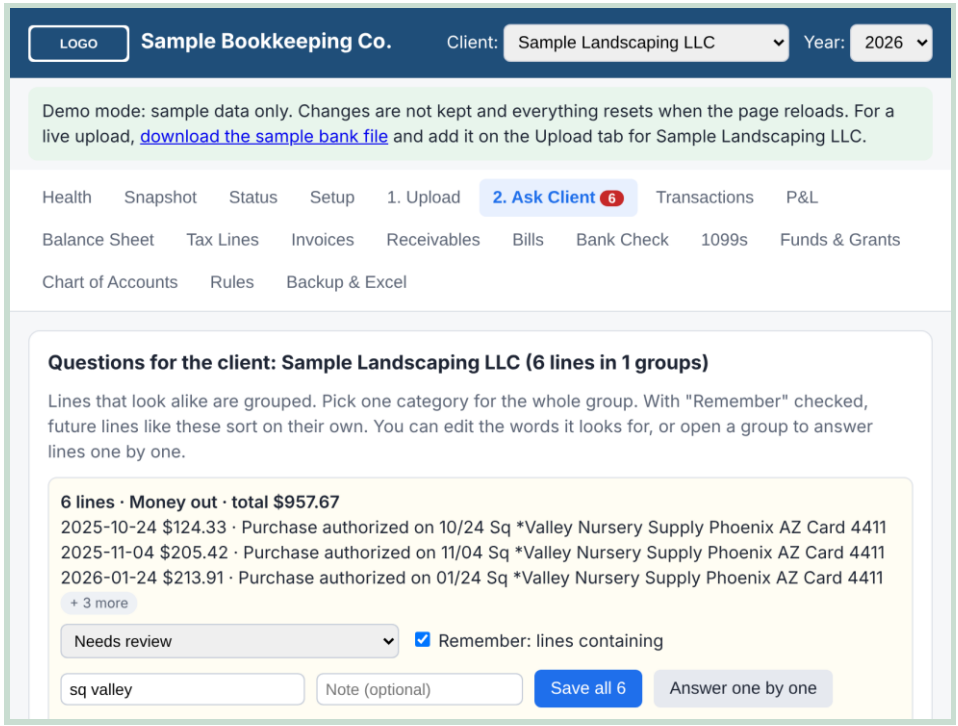

Bringing in bank statements

- Wells Fargo PDFs: Drop the statement PDFs on the Upload tab. Many at once is fine.
- Any other bank: Download CSV, Quicken (QFX), QuickBooks (QBO), or OFX. Quicken or QuickBooks files work best.
- PayPal and Stripe: Upload the activity CSV to capture full sales, fees, and refunds.

Sorting and client questions

- Rules sort: Most lines sort themselves using rules, like fuel or bank fees.
- Ask Client: Lines it can't sort are grouped so you ask the client once per group.
- Remember: Check Remember, and lines like that sort themselves next month.

Client reminders, in your firm's name

Every reminder comes from you, not from software. Use any or all three.

Phone calendar

Send the client a calendar file once. Their phone reminds them every month to send statements to your firm.

Text or email now

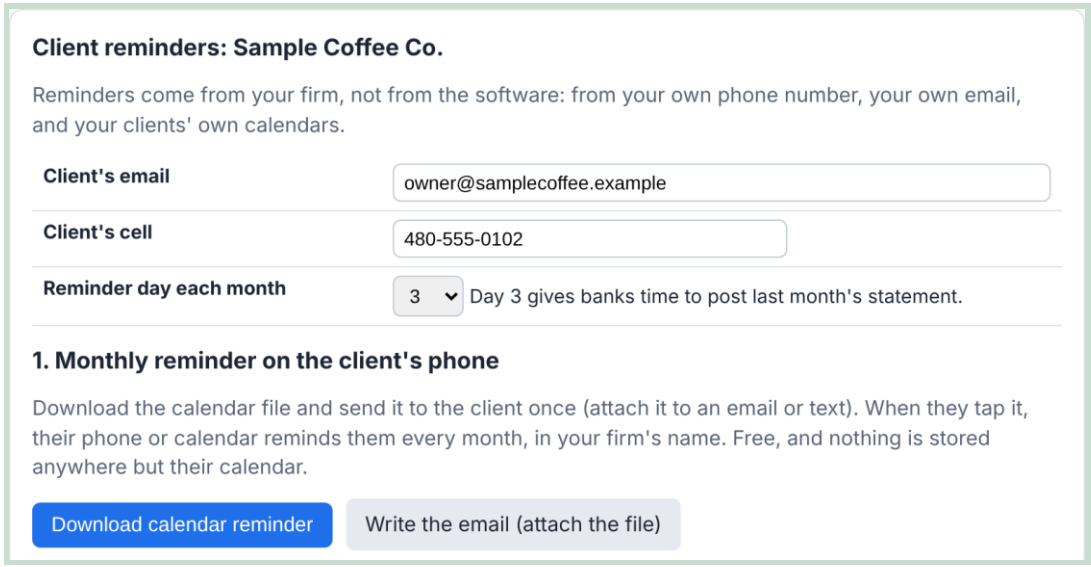

One click opens your own Messages or email app with the missing-statement message already written.

Automatic email

Optional. Goes out by itself on the reminder day, with one follow-up a week later.

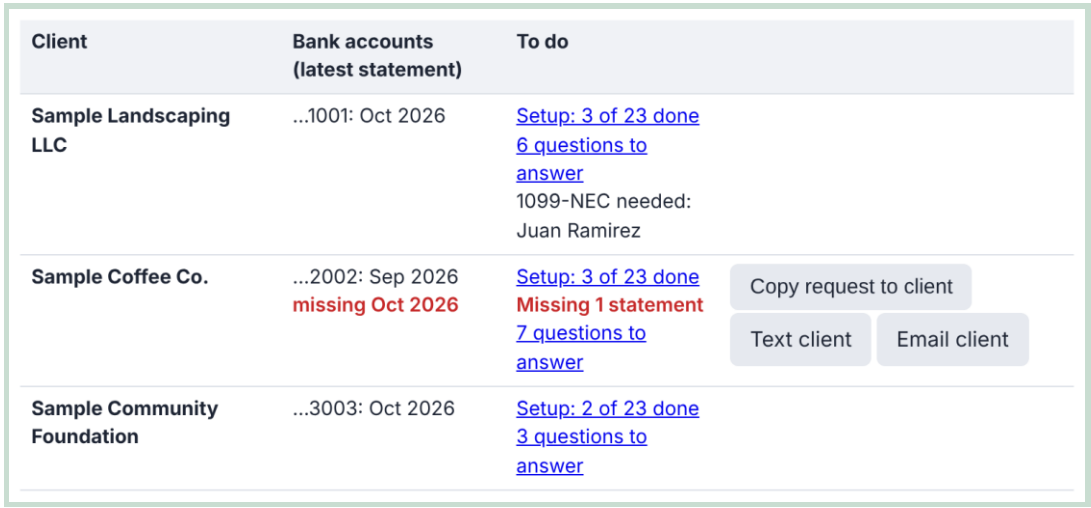

Set up a client's reminders

- Open the client, then the Setup tab, and scroll to Client reminders
- Type the client's email and cell, and pick a reminder day (day 3 is a good start)
- Click Download calendar reminder
- Click Write the email, attach the file, and send it
- The client taps the file and chooses Add

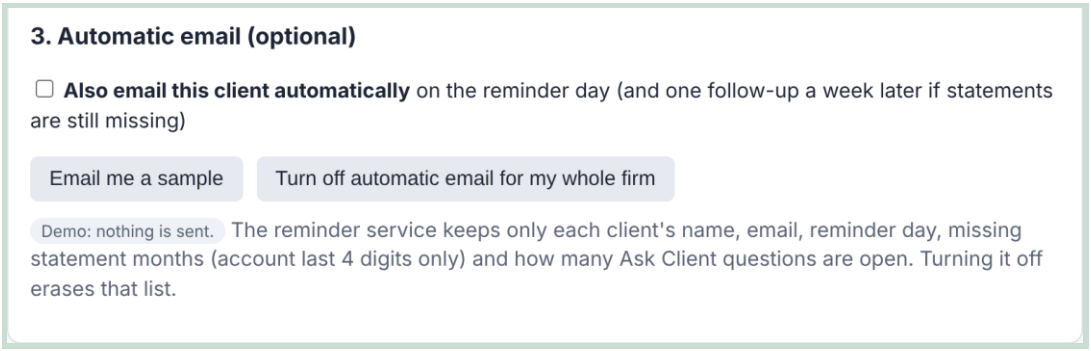

Text or email in one click

- The Status tab shows who is missing statements
- Click Text client: your Messages app opens with the message typed in
- Or click Email client: your email app opens
- Check it and press send
- Texting works on a phone, a Mac, or a PC linked with Phone Link

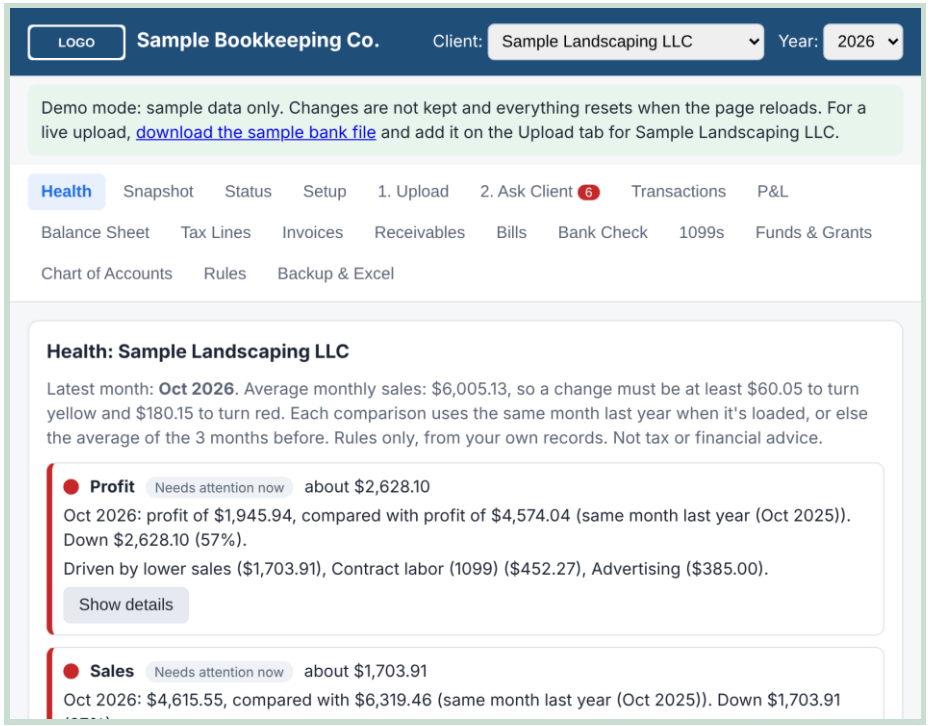

Automatic email (optional)

- Your owner turns it on once for the whole firm
- Then check Also email this client automatically
- It goes out about 8 AM Arizona time on the reminder day
- One follow-up a week later if still missing
- Clients who are up to date get nothing

Your reports

- Health: Green, yellow, and red checks with the dollars behind each one.
- P&L and balance: Monthly profit and loss, plus what the business owns and owes.
- Excel package: Every sheet says "Prepared by" your firm. Send it to the client or tax preparer.

Getting help: the assistant

- Click Need help? at the bottom right of any screen
- Ask out loud or type your question
- It never sees your books, so don't share client details
- Say no to "Any more questions?" and it closes itself
- Your firm gets 10 help minutes per client book each month

Ask

10 minutes per client book each month. When minutes run low, a bar at the top lets you buy more.

Backups: the 3-2-1 rule

- Click Download backup at the end of every work session
- Keep 3 copies on 2 kinds of storage, with 1 away from the office
- Backups are locked to your firm, so a lost file can't be read
- New computer: sign in, then Restore from backup on the Status tab
- Never clear this site's browser data without a fresh backup

3-2-1

3 copies, 2 kinds of storage, 1 kept away from the office.
