Your firm. Your branding. Your AI teammate.

ESource AI Group

What if your software worked for your firm?

Your name only

What if every report you send carried only your firm's name and logo?

Statements tracked

What if missing bank statements were tracked for you, with reminders sent in your name?

Help you can talk to

What if your team could ask the software a question out loud and hear the answer?

Data stays home

What if your clients' bank data never left your firm's computers?

AI busywork help

What if AI suggested categories and wrote your client questions for you?

Proven, priced right

What if every month proved it ties to the bank, for less per client than QuickBooks or Xero?

The month-end grind you know too well

Chasing statements

Emails and calls every month to get the same bank statements.

Unsorted lines

Hundreds of transactions to sort, and the same questions for clients again and again.

Someone else's brand

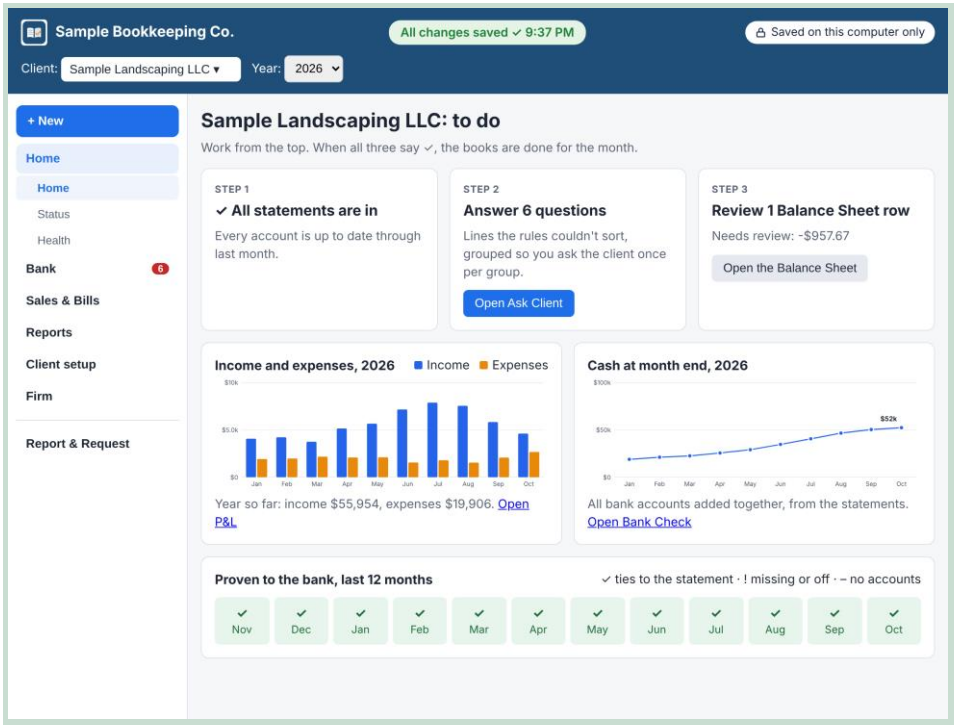

Your clients see the software maker's name, not yours.

Rising prices

QuickBooks raised its Essentials, Plus and Advanced prices on August 1, 2026.

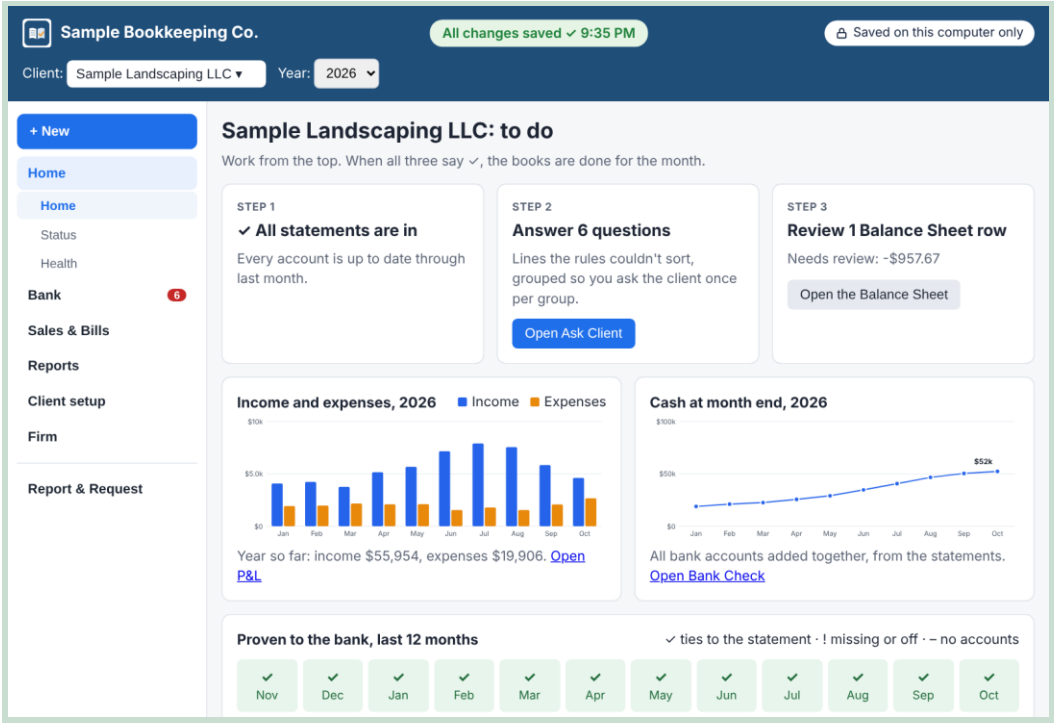

Know what's left, at a glance

- Every client opens on Home: a 3-step to-do list
- Missing statements, client questions, Balance Sheet
- Charts: income and expenses, and cash by month
- 12 green checks: every month proven to the bank
- A short menu, like the tools you know

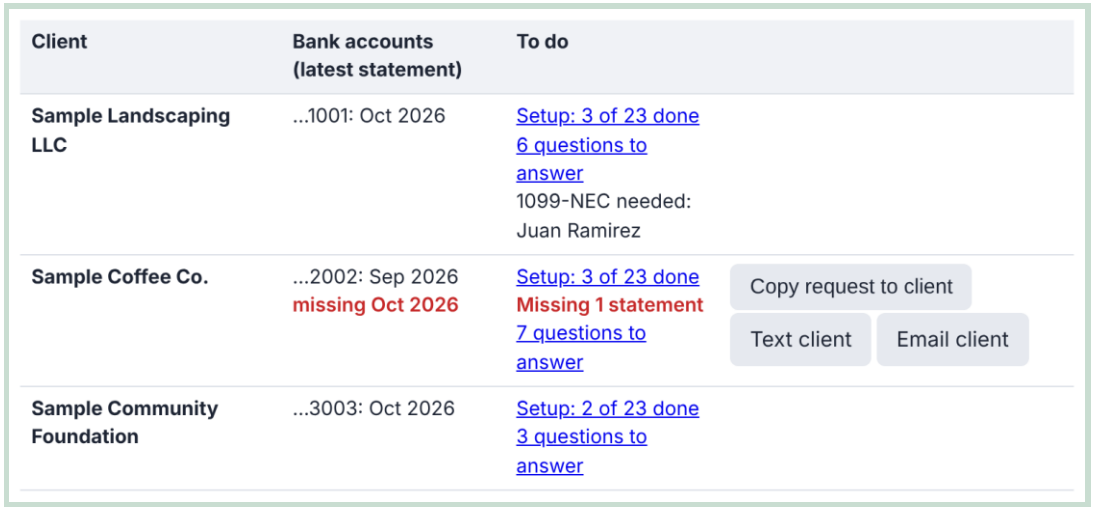

Your brand, everywhere

- Your firm's name, logo and color across the top of every screen
- "Prepared by" your firm on every Excel report sheet
- Statement requests and reminders signed by your firm
- Clients never see our name

Missing statements, tracked for you

- The Status tab shows every client and every missing statement
- One click texts the client from your own phone
- Or emails them from your own email
- The message lists exactly which months are missing

Reminders that come from you

On their phone

Send a calendar file once. The client's own phone reminds them every month to send statements to your firm.

One click, your number

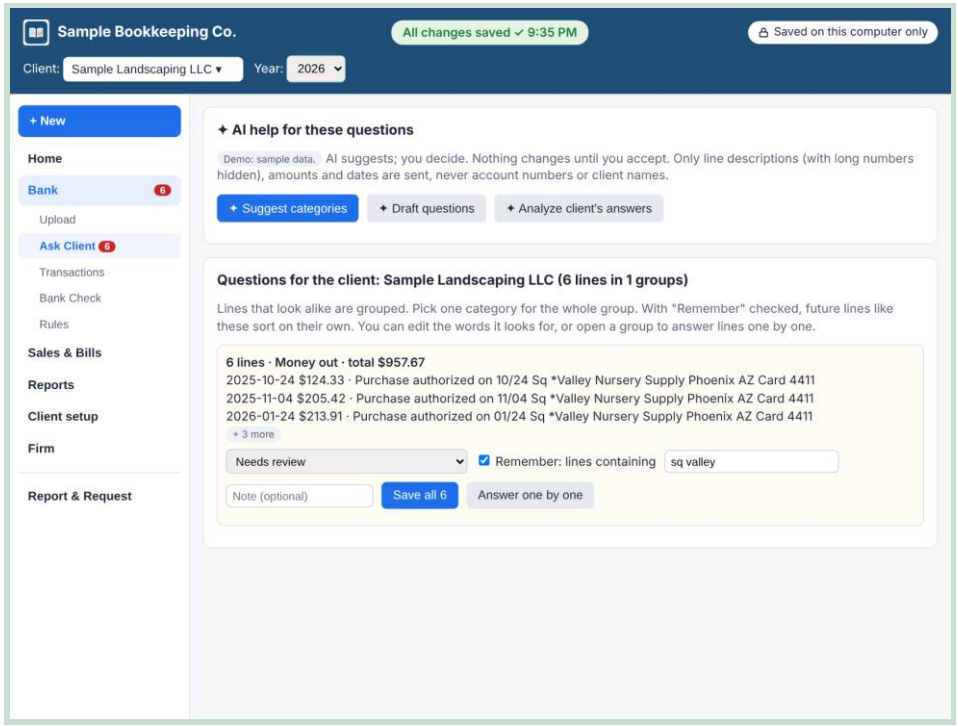

Text or email from your own phone or email, with the message already written.

Automatic email

Optional. Goes out on the day you choose, with one follow-up a week later if still missing.

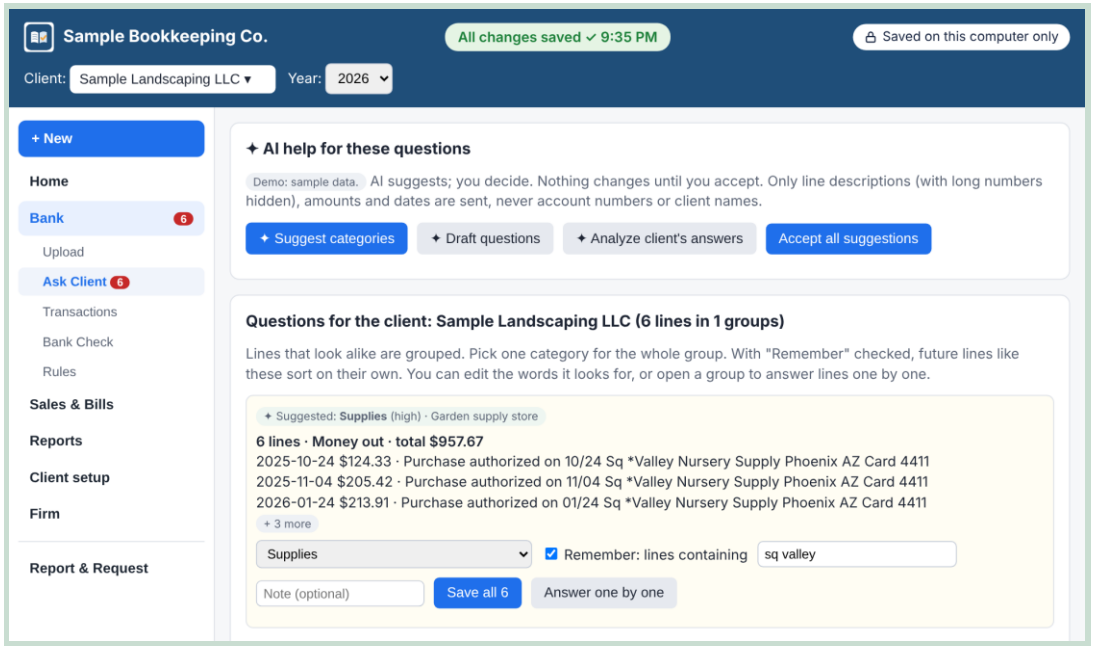

Clients answer once, not over and over

- Rules sort most lines by themselves
- Lines that look alike are grouped
- Ask the client once for the whole group
- Check Remember, and next month those lines sort themselves

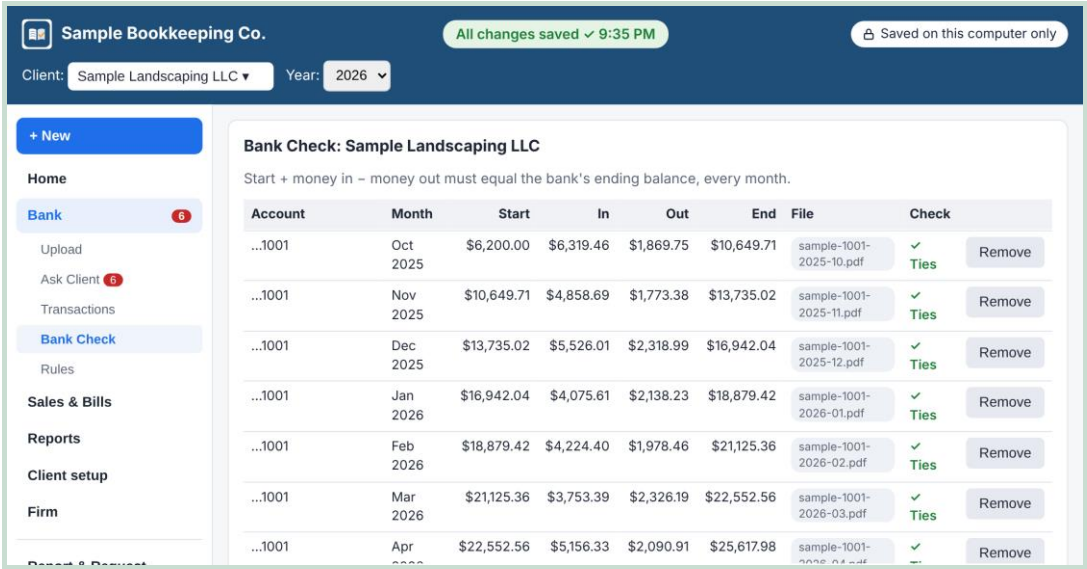

✦ AI does the busywork

- ✦ Suggest categories: a category and reason for each group
- ✦ Draft questions: a friendly note to your client, in your name
- ✦ Analyze client's answers: paste the reply, and AI matches each answer
- ✦ Explain: what's off on the Balance Sheet, and how to fix it
- You always decide: nothing changes until you accept

Every month proves it ties to the bank

- Start plus money in, minus money out, must equal the bank's ending balance
- Every month shows Ties, or tells you what's off
- Works with PDFs and any bank's CSV, QFX, QBO or OFX download

Every approval on record

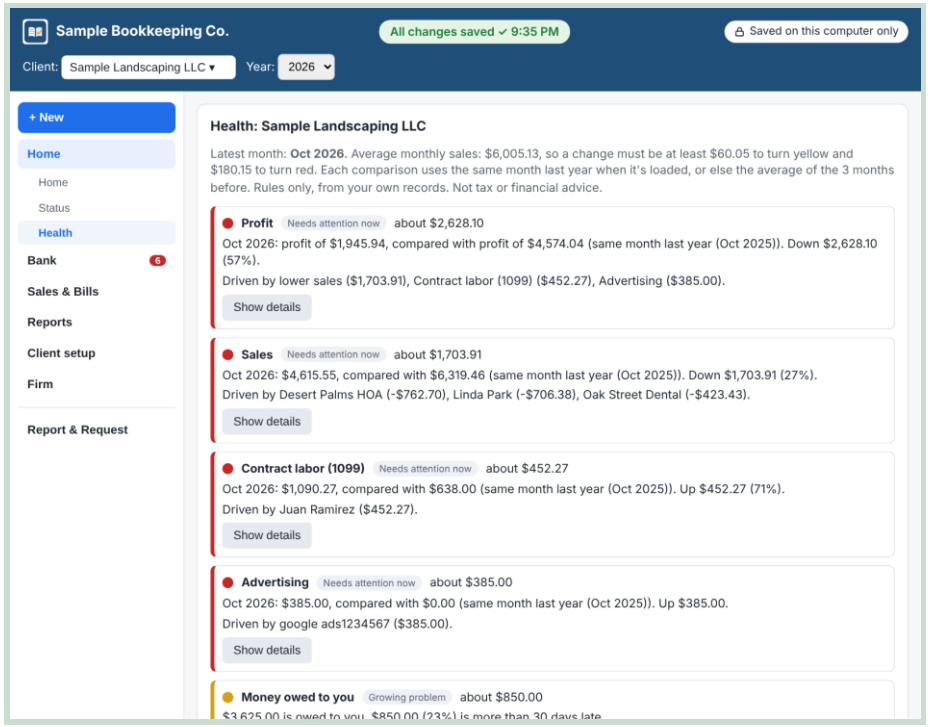

- Check Looks right on each Balance Sheet row you've reviewed
- Each check saves who approved and when
- Approval history downloads to Excel for any reviewer
- Once a tax return is filed, that year locks
- Only the owner can reopen a filed year, with a typed reason

Proof

Show anyone who approved each line, and know a filed year can't change by accident.

See each client's health at a glance

- Green, yellow and red checks for each client
- Profit, sales, spending, cash, money owed, bills due and deadlines
- Show details opens the actual transactions

- 10 help minutes per client book every month, included

Your clients' data stays in your office

- Bank statements and books are saved only on your firm's computers
- Books and backups are locked to your firm
- Each staff member signs in with their own email code
- Remove someone the day they leave; their computer locks the books
- ESource sees only counts, never client names or bank data

Your office

Client bank data never goes to our servers or anyone else's cloud.

Built for firms of any size

No client limit

Keep every client in one place. Tested with 600 clients of 2,000 lines each.

Find any client

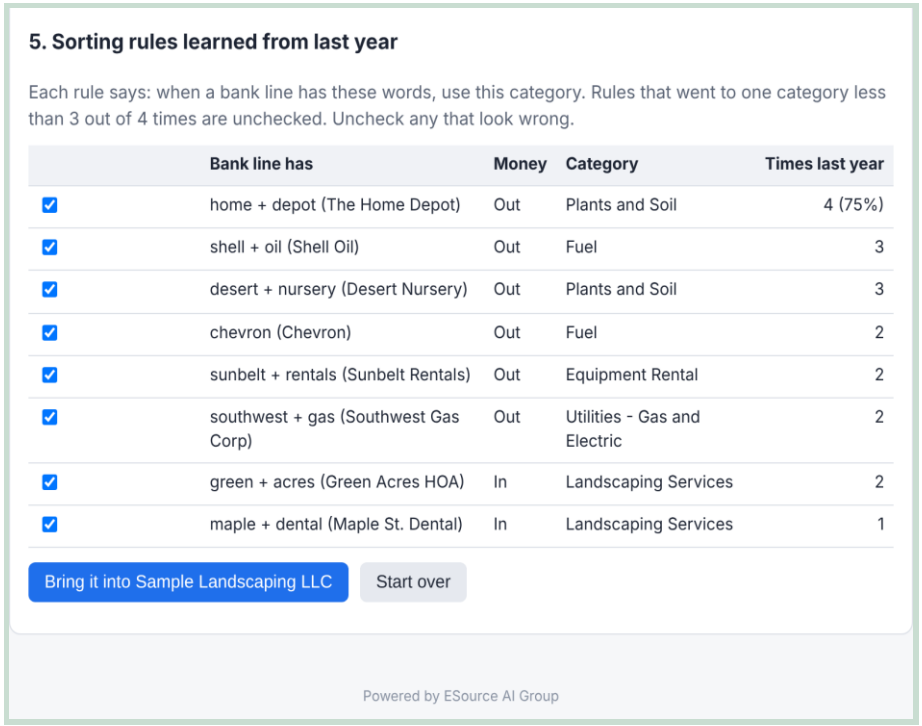

Type a few letters of the name. Your recent clients come first.

Saved instantly

Each change saves in under a tenth of a second. A badge at the top shows it's saved.

Bring your clients over in minutes

- From QuickBooks, Zoho, Xero or Wave
- Drop 5 exported reports and check the preview
